Raul Necochea
Assistant Professor, Department of Social Medicine
Adjunct Associate Professor, Department of History

Social Medicine, CB#7240
(000) 000-0000
necochea@email.unc.edu

Appointed Year:	2010
Tenured:	Yes
Education:	• PHD Social Medicine, McGill University 2010
World Area of Focus:	• Latin America 50%-74%
Languages:	• Spanish (native/bilingual proficiency)
Specialization:	History of medicine and science; global health; sexual and reproductive health; Latin America; science and technology studies; relations between developed and developing regions
Relevant Experience:	• Peru (country of origin) • Director, North Carolina Memorial Hospital Oral History Project • advisory committee member, Comprehensive Advanced Medical Program of Spanish (CAMPOS), UNC School of Medicine • Faculty advisor for Working Group on Migration, Gender, and Health in the Americas • faculty advisor, Bullitt History of Medicine Club • advisory board member, MA Program in Literature, Medicine and Culture, UNC-Chapel Hill • advisory board member, UNC Sexuality Studies Program
Distinctions:	• -ongoing Explorations in Global Health grant from the UNC Institute for Global Health and Infectious Diseases, “Mexicans and North Carolina: Transnational Health Needs of Migrants in the State and their Families in Mexico,” Role: PI. US $5,000. • 2015-2015 La Planificación Familiar en el Perú del Siglo XX, chosen among the “Most Important Books on the History of Peru for 2016,” Latin American Academic History Critics Blog Reserva Crítica and As “Fifteen Books to Read in 2016,” Diario El Comercio; Simmons Scholar Career Development Program, UNC School of Medicine • 2013-2015 UNC Junior Faculty Development Award • 2011-2011 John Bullen Prize for Outstanding Doctoral Dissertation, Canadian Historical Association
Dissertations and Theses Supervised in Past 5 Years:	5
Relevant Courses Taught:	• HIST 329 Introduction to the History of Medicine, Honors Program • HIST Latin American history • Medicine and society • Social and Health Systems: Latino Health Issues Capstone Seminar • PUBH 704 Foundations of Global Health
Recent Publications:	• 2017 "Aventuras y Desventuras del Pathfinder Fund en la Planificación Familiar Peruana, 1958-1965," eds. J Lossio and E Barriga in Salud Pública en el Perú del Siglo XX: Paradigmas, Discursos y Políticas. Lima. PUCP. • 2016 La Planificación Familiar en el Perú del Siglo XX (”Family Planning in Twentieth Century Peru”). Instituto de Estudios Peruanos and United Nations Fund for Population Activities. • 2015 Less Is More: Global Family Planning in Peru, 1919-1979, University of North Carolina Press. (Forthcoming) • 2014 “Gambling on the Protestants: The Pathfinder Fund and Birth Control in Peru, 1958-1965,” Bulletin of the History of Medicine, forthcoming (41 pages). (Forthcoming) • 2014 A History of Family Planning in Twentieth Century Peru. University of North Carolina Press. • 2011 “Footprints on the Future: Looking Forward to Latin American Medical History in the Twenty-First Century,” A.E. Birn and R. Necochea, Hispanic American Historical Review. 91, 3: 503-527. • 2010 “Anticonceptivos en el Sur, Seguridad Nacional en el Norte,” [Southern Contraceptives, Northern National Security] Salud Colectiva [Colective Health]. 6, 1: 103-111.

• 2010 “Demographic Knowledge and Nation-Building: The Peruvian Census of 1940,” RN Lopez, Berichte zur Wissenschaftsgeschichte [Reviews in the History of Science]. 33: 280-296. Note: Listed in PubMed, under author’s maternal surname, López, instead of preferred paternal surname, Necochea.

• 2009 “Diecinueve Parroquias: Planificación Familiar Católica en el Perú, 1967-1976,” [Nineteen Parishes: Catholic Family Planning in Peru] in El Rastro de la Salud en el Perú, eds. M. Cueto, J. Lossio and C. Pasco. Lima: IEP, 259-290.